Credit Card Processing available in Office Therapy™ Billing Software

- Fully integrated state-of-the-art technology enables Office Therapy users to seamlessly process credits card transactions from their system replacing archaic stand alone systems. This technology addresses the shift to private pay revenue while improving productivity and cash flow -

Hagerstown, Maryland April 20, 2007 – DocuTrac, Inc., Behavioral Health Software Development Corporation, announced that they have integrated credit card processing in their Office Therapy billing software. This new functionality was integrated in Office Therapy to provide an easy to use efficient system for processing credit card payments.

In October of 2006 DocuTrac signed an agreement with TRANSFIRST Health Services, Inc. a division of TRANSFIRST HOLDINGS, INC., a leading provider of credit card processing services and payment enabling technologies. The partnership enables Office Therapy billing software customers to have an integrated credit card processing system which will dramatically improve efficiency over the traditional stand alone POS systems for handling payments from patients. Staff in a therapist's office can process credit card payments without leaving the Office Therapy billing system. This will provide real time savings in productivity and work flow.

Christy Corey, president of TRANSFIRST'S Health Services division explains, "The increase in the private pay portion of a provider's A/R has put financial stress on increased days outstanding for healthcare providers. Stand alone systems fall short in productivity and efficiency in offices especially when many are understaffed. These systems are neither efficient nor cost effective in processing patient payments. In working with DocuTrac, we are excited to add another integration vendor to our partner portfolio to address these needs. This partnership represents another advance in the behavioral healthcare market between two technology firms, combining to deliver meaningful enhancements to work flow and productivity in a therapist's office."

DocuTrac, located in Western Maryland, launched the first QuicDoc Clinical Information System in 1993. The Office Therapy Practice Management program was acquired in 2001. DocuTrac is committed to incorporating new technologies and advances in their documentation and billing software.
