

Can I use an iPad, iPhone or Android device with QuicDoc and/or Office Therapy?

The answer is YES, you can.

All you need is a way to remotely access your personal computer that is running QuicDoc and/or Office Therapy applications. So now you can use our apps from anywhere you have WiFi or cell reception.

Here is what you will need:

1. Install our program on your office or home computers like you would normally do.
2. Choose one of the many programs available for Remote Desktop (see list below)

Free Apps	Paid Apps
Remote Desktop Lite by MochaSoft	GoToMyPC for iPad
iRemote Desktop by Hana Mobile	LogMeIn Ignition
RemotePC Remote Access by Pro Softnet Corp	Splashtop Remote
TeamViewer HD by TeamViewer	VNC Viewer by RealVNC
Mocha VNC Lite by MochaSoft iRdesktop by Thinstuff s.r.o
Ericom Access ToGo by Ericom

3. Most remote desktop programs will need you to install one piece of their software on your personal computer (desktop at home or office) and another piece of software on your mobile device (iPad, iPhone or Android phone). So once you choose a program from the list above, just make sure you follow the instructions provide with the remote desktop program to configure your computer and your network and within a matter of minutes you will be able to access Office Therapy and/or QuicDoc from your mobile device.

This list mentions third party products and services for informational purposes only. We do not endorse these. DocuTrac will not be liable in connection with the products and services provided by any of these vendors.